ITALY'S ARMY ANNIHILATES DIVISIONS OF THE INVADING GERMAN HOSTS

ROME, Nov. 26.—Several Austro-German divisions have been annihilated in the fierce fighting on the Asiago plateau. Dispatches from that front today dwelt upon the severity of the Teutons' losses and the completeness of the check administered to the invaders by the Italians.

All efforts of the Germans however, to break through and encircle the Italian left wing have so far crumpled under the Italian resistance. Two German and Austro-Hungarian regiments, mistaking each other's identity in the darkness, fought for hours, inflicting severe losses, before the error was discovered. Many hundreds of unburied bodies lie in the valleys and in the woods that flank the mountain sides.

ENGINEER DIES FROM DISEASE OF THE HEART

Frederick William Medlin, an employee of the East Bay Water company in the capacity of stationery engineer at the San Pablo plant, died of heart disease in his apartments in the Alta apartment house last night. He had only been sick for a few days and his death was a great shock to his wife and children. He had been a resident in Richmond for about a month, having come here from Nevada City, this state.

Deceased leaves a wife and two sons, Alfred and Elmer, both residents of Nevada City, where the body will be shipped tomorrow by Undertaker Bert Curry for interment.

Little Miss Carrie Elizabeth [illegible] assisted by the Richmond Municipal Band will give an entertainment at the Liberty theatre [illegible] for the benefit of the soldiers' tobacco fund.

BATTLE IN FRANCE IS RAGING FROM MOUNTAINS TO THE COAST OF FLANDERS

PARIS, Nov. 26.—Violent artillery activity is continuing in the Verdun region east of the Meuse, where the French are organizing the ground they captured yesterday at the north of Hill 344, says today's war office statement.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Germans have not repeated their attacks on the Bourlon position west of Cambrai since their failure of yesterday, Field Marshal Haig announced today. The statement issued by the war office reads:

On the Cambrai battle front the enemy has not renewed his attacks on the Bourlon position since the failure of his attempt at midday yesterday and the situation is unchanged.

Northeast of Ypres there was considerable artillery activity on both sides early last night in the Passchendaele sector, but no infantry action developed.

HORNER MAY GO TO MARTINEZ EXEMPTION BOARD

According to information from Martinez today, George W. Whitman, of the Martinez exemption board will tender his resignation at the next meeting and Attorney C. D. Horner of this city will be appointed in his stead.

Horner has been connected with the matter of draft registration and exemptions since the organization of local exemption board as government attorney and has shown a remarkable aptitude for the work. He took four young lady clerks from the local board office to Martinez and in two days accomplished a job of compiling statistics for the government which would ordinarily take a week to accomplish.

HARRY YEAGER JOINS UNCLE SAM'S ARMY

Harry Yager, pioneer Wells Fargo delivery wagon driver of this city, enlisted today in the 20th Regiment, U. S. engineers. The regiment is in Washington, D. C. and Harry Yager expects to join them there within the week. He enlisted in the capacity of a teamster.

Becoming a member of Uncle Sam's fighting force is not a new experience for Mr. Yager. For three years he was a member of a United States cavalry regiment and for the [illegible] of three years a member of Troop B, national guards and for seven months he belonged to company B, National Guards on the [illegible] border.

Harry Yager drove the Wells Fargo delivery wagon in this city for many years and delivered all the goods coming here with a wagon and one horse and finally two horses were provided. Later other wagons were provided to meet the business.

PIONEER OF SAN PABLO DIES AT AGE OF 68

Joseph Rose Pereira, 68 years of age and a native of Portugal who for the past fifty years has been a resident of San Pablo, died at his home in that place last night after an illness extending over a period of several weeks.

Deceased leaves a wife, Annie Rose Pereira and the following sons and daughters to mourn his loss: Mrs. Fred W. Bloome, Concord, A. E. Rose, San Pablo; Joseph E. Rose, Oakland; Mrs. A. M. Peters, Honolulu; Rena B. Rose, San Pablo.

Mrs. Peters is on the way here from Honolulu, but did not reach this city in time to see her father alive. She is expected to arrive tomorrow morning. When Mr. Pereira took a turn for the worse the relatives here cabled to her and she took the first boat from the Islands to San Francisco.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from St. Paul's Catholic church at San Pablo and the remains will be interred in St. Joseph's cemetery at San Pablo.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs who journeyed to Antioch Saturday night to attend the district meeting of those orders report they had a pleasant trip and were well entertained by the hospitable people of that city. The party returned home yesterday morning pretty sleepy, but otherwise they were all right.

The remains of Mrs. Charles Mahnke will be cremated at the Oakland crematory tomorrow afternoon. Funeral services will be from the Smallwood mortuary chapel at 2 o'clock. Those who will act in the capacity of pallbearers are W. Bollander, Sergeant Sam Wright, of the local police force, Robert Kirkpatrick, Gordon Reed, Zeb Knott and Councilman H. O. Watson.

QUEST FOR LOST DAUGHTER IS CONTINUED BY MOTHER

A statewide search is being resumed today, after a false hope and a clue that proved vain, by Mrs. Beatrice Woodruff, of 872 Seventeenth street, San Pablo, who Saturday, after trailing the lost child she thought to be her long lost little one, found that her clues were false. The child, [illegible] daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Plumgren, and also known as Edna Appleby, of Oakland was not hers. The mother says that she will [illegible] her search, and today will seek other clues to the little one she last saw in an orphanage in Oakland years ago.

The story of the mother's search for her little one reads like a romance. Mrs. Woodruff, eight years ago, [illegible] told by her husband that [illegible] was divorced, and at that time, unable to care for her baby, placed it in an orphanage. Records show that the child was taken out, and kept some time by a family which did not adopt it. Later it was turned over to another family. There the record ceases.

For nearly seven years Mrs. Woodruff has been seeking her little daughter. In this city she ran across clues that pointed to the Plumgrens, and enlisting the aid of Pierce & Frazier, attorneys here, she obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Frank B. Ogden in Oakland and Saturday night, with an officer of the law, sought the Plumgren's home.

Here her clues failed. She was furnished with proofs of the identity of the child, formerly known as Martha Appleby, and now as Edna Plumgren, being the child of another and the Plumgrens furnished a "clear title."

"I will resume the search," declared the mother. "This clue has failed, but I have not given up hope. Some day I will find my child again."

She will seek further records at the Oakland orphanage where she left the little one.

RECRUITING FOR ENGINEERS IN RICHMOND

Joseph Baldwin, the real estate man has started a recruiting station at 802 Macdonald avenue. He is recruiting for the 115th regiment of engineers and wants men of the required age with experience at almost any of the trades.

The pay ranges all the way from $30 to $81 per month if you remain in America and from $36 to $96 if you see overseas service. The regiment is at the present time at Camp Kearney undergoing intensive training and about 200 more men are needed. First come are first taken, so you see there is but little time to spare if you become a member of this, the best branch of the service.

A large number of non-commissioned officers' places are open, [illegible] and the men who now [illegible] an opportunity to get a [illegible] early in the game.

COMMISSIONS IN ARMY WON BY RICHMOND MEN AT THE O. T. CAMP

Truman H. DeLap, one of the foremost attorneys of this city and county who has been a member of the Officers' Training Camp at the Presidio for the past three months has made the grade of first lieutenant in the field artillery reserve corps and henceforth, according to the present understanding, will be attached to that service in the United States army.

Although some months beyond the draft limit in age, DeLap at the outbreak of the war decided that it was up to every able-bodied man in the United States to do everything possible to aid the government in the present crisis. His law practice, which was one of the best in the country, was cheerfully sacrificed to the cause of patriotism and he presented himself for training, with the result that he has made the grade of first lieutenant with the result as above stated.

The many friends of Attorney De Lap in this city will be pleased to learn that he has attained the rank he sought in the army and they are all confident that he will give a good account of himself in the great war for Democracy which this nation is waging.

Alvin Gerlach, another young attorney of Richmond has given up a good law practice to enter the army and secured a second lieutenancy in the infantry arm of the service. He is the son of Councilman John G. Gerlach and has gained many friends throughout the country by reason of the fact that for many months he waged a successful fight against the road houses and houses of prostitution in this end of the county. It is largely through his efforts the county at this time is free from the element. Gerlach will make a good record for himself in the army.

Edward J. Timmons is another Richmond boy who has made the grade of first lieutenant in the infantry arm of the service. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Timmons of this city and grew up to manhood in this city. He has decided to make the military his life work and that he will succeed and make a good record for himself all his friends are confident.

Other young men of this city who have secured commissions in the training camp are William Ronan, first lieutenant, field artillery; Percy O'Connor, 2nd lieutenant, infantry; Robert A. Wilson, of Pittsburg is also a second lieutenant of infantry and Raymond Spencer, of Walnut Creek, a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith, of this city won a first lieutenancy in the aviation corps. Spencer is a graduate of Cornell university and is an electrical engineer. He has been sent to Portland, Oregon, where a large aviation training school is to be established and it is expected that he will be an instructor there in electrical engineering.

GERMAN MONEY AND INTRIGUE MAY MAKE RUSSIAN HORDES ALLY OF CENTRAL POWERS IN BIG WAR

THE HAGUE, Nov. 26.—The Russian situation today is swiftly drifting into a new phase, fraught with the utmost menace to the Allies. Evidence has been unearthed, indicating that German agents are trying to do more than to drive Russia into a separate peace. They are actually trying to align Russia as a potential ally of the Central Powers. Just how far this influence extends is not known, but there is ample evidence that the Bolsheviki leadership in Petrograd is permeated by sentiments that have been bought by German gold.

For a long time there have been insinuations that Nicholai Lenine, one of the mainstays of the Bolsheviki in Petrograd, is friendly to Germany. It was through the action of the German government that Lenine, an exile in Switzerland, was able to reach Russia shortly after the revolutionary coup last spring.

If Lenine and his companion, Trotzky, are able to maintain their power a little longer and the demoralization and spread of anarchy in Petrograd continues, the Allies may have to revise their plans for this winter's campaign and that of next year.

WASHINGTON, November 26.—The proposals of the Bolsheviki government of Russia for a three month armistice on all fronts, to [illegible] world peace conference were being "considered" by the United States government today. The proposals, which were handed to Ambassador Francis early last week, were forwarded to the State Department by way of Stockholm.

To reject the proposal through a diplomatic note would be to recognize the Bolsheviki as forming a de facto Russian government. The State Department is not likely to take this step.

THE SPIRIT OF ENTERPRISE

It is an interesting problem in business psychology to determine why people trade at one store rather than another. Prices, location, quality, are all vital, but not the whole thing.

The wide-awake manager of a real store comes down town full of the spirit of enterprise. He does not ask to be sure of two dollars back before he will spend one. "Start something" he calls out to the boys, and soon the place radiates his pushing personality.

His first move is to spread the news. He finds this or that line in his store where he has usual values, or something he wants to turn into cash. He realizes that the public will never know what he can do for them unless he takes some pains and goes to some expense to inform them. By persistent advertising he gives the public the news of his store. Pretty soon the impression is spread abroad that it is a store where there is "something doing."

The American people have little use for inactivity. They care little for the business man who sits down and waits for opportunity to knock and business to come. They will go out of their way to trade with a man who seeks their trade and shows some spirit of push.

The one way to convey this impression is of course to advertise. Circulars don't give it to any large extent, as they are so apt to be thrown away unread. While the circular reposes all crumpled up in the waste basket, the newspaper remains on the parlor table until the whole family has been through it.

Solicitation from door to door, if done by a tactful and competent man, gives an impression of enterprise. But advertising is 20 times cheaper and quite as efficient. It spreads the news all over, and makes a man seem like a pusher instead of a waiter.

GERMANY FIGHTS STRONGEST WITH LIES

It is now clear that the big Austro-German success against Italy was a victory less of arms than of lies. It was an unparalleled campaign of falshood and treachery that broke the Italian front and opened northern Italy to the invaders.

On the eve of the German offensive the Teutons managed to circulate among the Italian troops forged editions of well known Italian newspapers such as the Giornale d'Italia and the Corriere della Sera. These editions contained false stories of tumult and revolt in southern Italy, of uprisings in Tuscany, of English soldiers firing upon Italian women and children, of French cavalry riding over the dead bodies of Italian citizens.

The effect on the Italian army may be imagined. And to this sort of sportsmanship the Germans added the following masterpieces of Prussian strategy:

They had placed opposite the sector where they meant to open their drive Austrian Socialist troops, and had encouraged those troops in fraternizing with the enemy. Large numbers of Italians were taken in by that trick. They believed that the Teutons were sincere when they asked why fellow-Socialists, eager for peace, should keep on killing each other. Perhaps the Teuton Socialists really were sincere, and were tricked themselves by their superiors. At any rate, after the peace-poison had been distributed, the German command withdrew its decoy Socialists and replaced them with "shock troops." Then it was "Onward with God," and the drive started.

And in the actual fighting treachery still played its part. Clever Bulgarians and Croates, speaking Italian and dressed in Italian uniforms, had succeeded in penetrating the Italian lines before the attack, and had associated themselves with the Italian troops. They succeeded in getting hold of field telephones and 'phoning orders for the abandonment of important positions, thus adding greatly to the confusion and demoralization of the Italians.

This is a fine example of the sort of tactice that every nation assailed by Germany has to expect, on the battlefield, in diplomacy, in commerce and in private life. It is another warning to Americans to have no faith in any professions made by Germany or on Germany's behalf until Germany's military power is broken and the Hohenzollern rule of lies, blasphemy and brutality is ended.

Teach me that sixty minutes make one hour, sixteen ounces one pound and one hundred cents one dollar. Help me so that at night I may lie down without a gun under my pillow, unhaunted by the faces of those to whom I have brought pain. Grant that I may earn my meal ticket on the square and in the earning of it shall not stick the gaff where it does not belong. Deafen me to the jingle of tainted money and to the rustle of unholy skirts. Blind me to the faults of the other fellow but reveal to me mine own. Keep me young enough to laugh and to play with my children. And when comes the smell of flowers, and the crunching of wheels outside and the trend of soft steps, make the ceremony short and the epitaph simple, "Here lies a Man."

EXCELLENT BILL PRESENTED THIS WEEK AT OAKLAND ORPHEUM

Vaudeville is a word as all-embracing as infinity.

It used to mean song-and-dance turns in Paris when it was first coined—and from there the Orpheum expanded its meaning to everything from sleight of hand to problem plays—and others copied the idea until it was standardized. Now the Orpheum has added another shade of meaning to the word—and perhaps has taken one of the most forward steps possible in making vaudeville and infinity one and the same in stage parlance.

This week, at the Oakland Orpheum, two young scientists are showing how they telegraph pictures. An invention more sensational than the wireless telegraph—a conception so remarkable that it is unbelievable—these two scientists used their imagination with their knowledge—and can literally see over a wire. They can see around the world by telegraph. The Leishman Brothers, or "Space Conquerors" as they are billed, have sold their invention to the Government, but are being allowed to demonstrate it. It is science, and it is educational—but still grippingly interesting.

But back to vaudeville—and the old adage that music has charms. Often those who read of the mystic spell of song wonder twhat it feels like to be really "Enchanted" by harmony—but it is seldom that one is—there are few such magicians in this world. But the Kouns sisters, two girls who sing at the Orpheum this week, literally charm—really cast a mystic spell, by their golden voices. To say that two girls and a pianist make a headline act is absurd—until one sees the Kouns sisters—then one changes all his ideas about the show business. For the Kouns sisters are veritable enchantresses—they could hold an audience all night. It is not easy to see, until one has heard them, why America raves over them—but once seen the secret is clear.

Arthur Deagon, comedian of avoirdupois and a great vein of humor, "Knocked them dead" in show parlance, last night. He is as funny as he is heavy—and a true artist. He is also possessed of a remarkably good voice—thing unusual in comedians.

Jean Adair and her company in "Maggie Taylor, Waitress," offer something unique in the varities. This may sound like one of the "Poor but honest working girls" type of play—but it's nothing of the kind. It is something new under the spotlight with a vengeance, and is one of those things that keep up the Orpheum reputation for originality in production. Jean Adair and her play are all to the good.

Harold Du Kane and two pretty girls offer what they call futuristic dancing. It is a surprise, whatever it is, and Du Kane and his graceful partners prove acceptable—and then some. In fact they essay 100 per cent to the good.

Harry Corson Clarke, just back from a tour of the old world and India, appears with Margaret Dale Owen in "And then You're Wrong." It is an original conception with a very decided "Punch." Clarke has long been famous for the big plays he has originated and for his starring in notable productions, and this occasion can only add to his many chapters of success. Paul McCarty and Elsie Faye offer "Suicide Garden"—a gruesome title for a very charming act. A Pathe Weekly rounds out the bill.

"AN EVEN BREAK" NEW BILL AT RICHMOND

Olive Thomas, the celebrated "Follies" beauty, will appear today and tomorrow at the Richmond theater in "An Even Break," a Triangle play which brings the gayety of Broadway cafe and theater life to the screen.

A magnificent setting, said to be the largest and most costly ever erected on the Triangle stages, furnishes the background for the Harrison Fisher beauty and a company of one hundred girls, who dance to the music of a Jazz band. More than four hundred people participate in this one cafe scene, which is devised with special lighting effects to enhance the beauty of the selected company of entertainers.

The play is said to have brought forth all the versatile talents of the star and provides the gay element that sets off her joyous personality. She is supported by Charles Gunn, Margaret Thompson, Darrel Foss, Charles K. French, J. Frank Burke and Louis Durham. Lambert Hellyer wrote and directed the play.

It is interesting to note that Olive Thomas in "An Even Break," was lately the feature of a week's program at S. M. Rothapfel's celebrated Rialto Theater in New York.

Quick Relief

Mr. Otto Schipske, a faithful employee of Koch's at corner Washington and 6th Sts., rejoices over his complete recovery. After having tried many doctors and remedies and also several Chinese herb specialists in Oakland, he found the FONG WAN HERB COMPANY to be the only place that could give him quick and permanent relief.

Oakland, Cal., April 25, 1917

"I suffered for many months from FIVE LUMPS under my chin, but was entirely cured in two weeks by the FONG WAN HERB TEA. Then I also drank their tea for my eyes and after a few weeks that trouble was also completely relieved.

LOCAL MENTION

Pertinent remarks about well-known People in Richmond Happenings about Town

The Gustav Vasa society had an excellent time at their ball given Saturday night. There was a large crowd present and everybody enwas a masquerade and joyed themselves thoroughly. It was a masquerade affair and prizes were given to the best sustained characters.

Two new precincts have been added to Richmond and there are eight new ones, all told in the county. The new precincts were established at a recent meeting of the board of supervisors.

Maurice and Lee Dicely and their respective families were visitors in Marin county yesterday.

Charles Van Damm and wife were visitors to Richmond yesterday. Mr. Van Damm is the president of the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry company. He came to town for the purpose of arranging for some repairs at the Point San Quentin slip before the stormy weather sets in.

Crab season is now on and many of the people of Richmond spent Sunday at the municipal wharf and the wharf of the Richmond-San Rafael Ferry fishing for them with basket nets. Some of them made large catches.

The ladies of St. Mark's church entertained more than three hundred guests at their big whist party and dance at the Richmond Club Saturday evening. Numerous prizes were awarded and the party netted quite a large sum for the church.

INSTANT ACTION SURPRISES MANY HERE

This grocer's story surprises local people: "I had bad stomach trouble. All food seemed to sour and form gas. Was always constipated. Nothing helped until I tried buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Ader-i-ka. ONE SPOONFUL astonished me with its INSTANT action." Because Adler-i-ka flushes the ENTIRE alimentary tract it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICKEST action of anything we ever sold. C. E. Niedecker, Druggist.
